VIDEO REMOTE INTERPRETING

HOW IT WORKS

Hearing individual talks to deaf or hard-of-hearing individual while the interpreter (VI) signs what is being said.

Communication continues to be interpreted back and forth among video interpreter, deaf or hard-of-hearing and hearing individuals for a full conversation experience.

GETTING STARTED

Is Purple VRI right for me?

VRI is ideal for a one-on-one conversation or with several people in the room. While Purple VRI is an excellent option for immediate, on-demand interpreting sessions, it is not a comprehensive replacement for on-site interpreting services. Purple VRI may not be the best solution in situations involving multiple participants without a firm speaking protocol, complex exchanges or sessions with individuals who have a secondary disability (i.e. low vision) that may impede their ability to understand the remote video interpreter.

“WHERE SHOULD I SIT DURING A VRI SESSION?”

Stand Beside or close to the video screen.

Look and speak directly to the deaf individual.

“HOW SHOULD I START A SESSION?”

Introduce who is in the room to the interpreter on the screen.

Provide a brief overview of the topic that will be discussed.
